

Love.

The Love of God dispersed abroad,
Personified in Christ our Lord,
Embraces all that we possess,
And proves His mercies numberless.
The Love of God shines clear and bright,
Do we appreciate The Light?
How does our love respond to Him?
Is it a flicker burning dim?
Let love reflect in what we do,
For love, like faith is active too,
Working with grace, love labours long,
Removing doubt with joyful song,
Our love for God will strive with sin,
And in this striving love will win,
If in our heart God plants His grace,
Sin finally will lose the race,
Verses and song may play their part,
But when love fills the human heart,
Actions excel where words prove weak,
In silence loving actions speak,
Evenmore let love abound,
The greatest of three virtues found,
With faith and hope may love express,
Our praise to God and thankfulness.

Mary Bellamy